Parks and Recreation Free Outdoor Summer Concert Series

Wichita Falls, Texas – The Parks and Recreation department is excited to kick-off their annual free outdoor summer concert series! The public is invited to the first concert featuring, Everything In Between. The free concert is scheduled for tomorrow, Tuesday, May 25 from 7pm to 8:30pm at Bud Daniel Park located downtown on the corner of 9th Street and Ohio Street. Residents are encouraged to bring a lawn chair or blanket and enjoy a night of free entertainment.

May 25th – Everything In Between at Bud Daniel Park

Everything In Between formed in August of 2015 and quickly escalated as a musical force. When asked about the type of music EIB performs, the answer was always the same. “We play everything from rock, classic rock, red dirt, modern rock and everything in between.” This is the basis of the name and motto for the band, Everything In Between. The name encapsulates the band on many levels, from the years of experience, song selections, and influences including their musical backgrounds that each member brings to the table. Some of the musical influences from each band member bring ranges from Tom Petty, Tool, Pearl Jam, as well as The Kinks, Alice in Chains, Paramour, Flyleaf, Evanescence, Joan Jett and many more. What this means is there are no boundaries set on the type of music a fan may hear at any given show. Since we have been going through changes, the differences will only continue to define who we are as a band. No limits, no definition, just good music and fun times!
