October 5th– La Cuadra Norteña (Bud Daniel Park)

La Cuadra Norteña is a Northern Mexican group from Texas and Oklahoma, who perform in a traditional style. Their corridos, rancheras, polkas, and ballads are classic norteño. This group, comprised of veteran musicians, used their early, popular live act that won them fans a gig at a time, whether at private or block parties, weddings, fairs, or in opening slots for "name" artists. The quintet came together in 2017, founded by bass player and lead vocalist Ramon (R3) Nuñez from Wichita Falls with a background from Chihuahua, Mexico, and Accordion Player and lead vocalist Manuel Alejandro Garcia from Castaños, Coahuila, Mexico. Other members are Bajo Sexto player Andres Franco from Oklahoma and background from Coahuila, Drummer/Percussionist Romel Garcia from Zacatecas, Mexico, and Drummer/harmonies Fernando Meza from Wichita Falls also with a background from Chihuahua, Mexico. All five had been performing with other acts since their teens. The band is slowly adding Ramon (Cuatro) Nuñez 14 yrs old from Wichita Falls to the band as the saxophone player.
